OUR MISSION & VISION:

The vision of Calvary Lutheran Church is:
“Sharing the life-changing message of Jesus Christ”

Mission Statement: Calvary Lutheran Church is a family of Christians, directed by the Holy Spirit, growing as disciples of Jesus through worship, Biblical study and prayer that are shared with the community and world.

Greetings Church! As you may know, we are a part of the NALC – the North American Lutheran Church. The national office sends out a regular newsletter, NALC News, and this month there was a wonderful article about the church, the role of the pastor and how we live as the People of God within this community. I thought it was timely, so I've included it here. I hope you find it encouraging!

Pastor Wendel begins with an example of a church in conflict who had a hard time welcoming visitors. One of the amazing gifts of Calvary is our welcoming and warm community! We are not a church in conflict. Yet, as People of God, we are called to live differently in this world. My favorite sections are #4 and #5 toward the end. We are a church that knows well that conflict is not to be handled with gossip or grudges. We follow Matthew 18:15-20, first going to the person who we have a disagreement with, then – if resolution or forgiveness cannot be found – we seek out the Pastor to assist.

We are a people of God's word (see #5) and it has been a blessing to continue in this study of our Lord and Savior Together!

Happy Reading! Pastor Dawn

Maintaining Unity: What is a Pastor & What is Pastoral Leadership?

“I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, beg you to lead a life worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all lowliness and meekness, with patience, forbearing one another in love, eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.” — Ephesians 4:1-3

Perhaps one of the most misunderstood and neglected aspects of leadership within congregations is that of maintaining unity. Although this is, or should be, one of the primary tasks of the pastor, he or she cannot create and maintain unity alone. It is the work of the leadership team as a whole — pastor, congregational officers and council. Indeed, the NALC model constitution, article 12.04.f states one of the responsibilities of the council is:

To promote a congregational climate of peace and goodwill, and, as differences and conflicts arise, to foster resolution of such conflicts according to Biblical principles.

In 1986, after five years in my first congregation, I was asked by my bishop to consider being called to a congregation in Colorado Springs which had been conflicted for 15 years (they were only in existence for 15 years!). After accepting the call and beginning our ministry together at this troubled church, many folks were baffled that in spite of the many visitors who showed up for worship each week, they rarely returned and the congregation rarely welcomed new members. I was baffled that our congregational leaders couldn't see the simple fact that visitors don't want to join a congregation that is conflicted! One Sunday morning visit was enough to sense the tension, pain and hurt present in the congregation.

Thankfully, the climate changed and growth began to happen. But this experience impressed upon me the reality that one of the greatest hindrances to evangelism, mission and growth within any congregation is conflict and disharmony within the body.

Whether the conflict and tension is between the pastor and council, members of the leadership team, or rank and file members of the congregation, lack of unity and harmony within a congregation drives folks away, and keeps new folks from wanting to come and participate. It is Job Number 1 for all congregational leaders — pastor and council — “to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.” To do so, it is important to understand what unity is not.

Unity in the Body of Christ is not the lack of conflict or disagreement. Many in our congregations mistakenly believe that peace comes from never disagreeing about things. Some will actively seek to silence or quell any difference of opinion, fearful that leadership will not be able to handle or manage conflict, bringing about negative consequences.

The truth of the matter is that negative consequences arise when conflict and disagreement are not handled openly and positively for the good of the whole. The more a pastor or council tries to silence and suppress any disagreement, the more it will often fester and grow until it becomes an open sore in the body, making healing more difficult.

Addressing conflict openly and directly allows for involved parties to be heard and to hear, to have conversation, plan a positive course and foster healing.

What will this look like in the congregation?

1. Direct, open, honest communication within the congregation, with no anonymous communications or criticisms, no triangulation, no secret meetings. The pastor and council set the tone for this kind of communication by the nature of their own relationships and dealings with one another.
2. Seeking no agenda other than that which is faithful to the Lord Jesus Christ, obedient to God’s Word and serves the well-being of the whole congregation. Pushing personal agendas, wishes, wants and desires are not the chief aim of the pastor or council (or members, for that matter).
3. Build consensus within the leadership and the congregation as a whole. When the congregational leadership team informs the congregation, communicates openly and regularly and makes decisions only when there is a consensus, trust develops and unity grows. Although congregational constitutions usually provide for “majority rules” decision-making, this results in “winners” and “losers” — factions and division within the congregation. Rarely is any decision so pressing that congregational leadership must act before informing, communicating with and building consensus within the congregation as a whole. It is important to note, however, that all must understand consensus-building is not about “getting what I want,” but acknowledging that what I want may not be what is best for the congregation. Although we never will compromise with regard to the Word of God, living together in community always requires sacrifice and compromise. This is how we arrive at consensus and unity around decision-making.

4. Live the Scriptures! As it says in the model constitution, as differences and conflicts arise ... foster resolution of such conflicts according to Biblical principles. One of the most useful strategies for handling conflict and difficulty within congregations is to heed the guidance of our Lord in the Gospel of Matthew 18:15-20. Here Jesus suggests how believers can be reconciled one to another in a godly, loving manner. Sadly, many Lutherans are not aware of these teachings of our Lord and seek to handle conflict and disagreement according to the ways of the world, using gossip, back-biting and under-handedness, rather than straightforward, open, honest communication, offered in love.

So finally, to live the Scriptures in our daily lives and in the community of the Church, we need to:

5. Know the Scriptures! How can we live God’s Word if we don’t know it? In the last generation or two, many Lutherans have become functionally illiterate when it comes to the Bible. To foster and maintain unity, harmony and peace within the Body of Christ, we will want to again become people of the Word of God. We will want to again learn what it means and how it is to be God’s people within the Church and within the local congregation.

This is how we may begin “to lead lives worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all lowliness and meekness, with patience, forbearing one another in love, eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.”

Assistant to the Bishop for Ministry and Ecumenism*

Don’t Vacation from God

This summer, don’t take a vacation from God! Our Lord is always here for us and we, likewise, should be there for Him in worship, Bible study and service. Weekend worship services are the same throughout the summer at Calvary - Saturdays at 5 pm and Sundays at 9 am. Adult Bible study continues throughout the summer as well! Going on vacation? Plan ahead and find a church to attend in the area you will be vacationing! If you need help, contact Pastor Dawn Spies or anyone in the church office at 262-786-4010.

Confirmation Sunday May 22, 2016

Congratulations to Emily Berger and Gwendalyn Rian on their Confirmation, May 22, 2016. May the blessings of the Lord be with you on this very special day. Blessing and prayers that God will bless you always, and keep you in His faithful care.

Emily Ann Berger

Date of Birth: July 23, 2002
Date of Baptism: October 26, 2003
Calvary Lutheran Church
Parents: Linda & Dale (brother, Daniel)
Mentor: Kim Nyka

Summary of My Faith:

I believe in God. One thing that confirms my faith is the thought that, if God created everyone, he would also love everyone. It feels right when you think of it like that and I don't think it is any other way. Also since he loves us so much he gives us a choice on how we live and if we follow his ways and love him freely.

Confirmation Bible verse:

Galatian 2:20 "It is no longer I who lives but Christ who lives in me."

Gwendalyn Grace Rian

Date of Birth: August 20, 2002
Date of Baptism: December 1, 2002
Christ Lutheran in Paddock Lake
Parents: Jenni Swanson-Rian & Matthew Rian (sister, Mandi)
Mentor: Sue Rowe

Summary of My Faith:

I believe in God because it seems like everything is placed too perfectly to happen by coincidence. And one way that I have come to know God more is through prayer. For example, when I pray, even though I might not get the answer I want, I can see that what God gives me is what's really best for me.

Confirmation Bible verse:

2 Corinthians 5:7 "For we walk by faith, not by sight."

A special time to meet with a Noon museum trip too

This is our last meeting of this year ! We'll select the books we want to read next year.

Once we've chosen the books, we'll have lunch (bring your own!) and then carpool downtown to the Milwaukee Public Museum for a docent-led tour of the re-designed "Streets of Old Milwaukee" exhibit. We plan to leave Calvary at noon. It promises to be a fun day!

Let Grace Gunnlaugsson know if you'd like to join us (gracemg@mac.com or 262-369-3910).

FREE Outdoor Concert

Come to the free outdoor concert performed by Four Guys in Dinner Jackets at the outdoor theater of the Sharon Lynne Wilson Center on Friday, July 8 at 6:30pm. Pack your lawn chairs & picnic baskets and enjoy an evening of good music and fellowship!

Sign up sheets are on the glass doors in the narthex. Don't forget there is also a Classic Car Show for auto enthusiasts!

If you'd like, we will take your lawn chairs over to the Sharon Lynne Wilson Center and pre-set up. Drop off your chairs in classroom #103 no later than noon on that Friday. Please put a tag on each chair with the tags that will be in the classroom. Questions? Contact Ron Foster, Sue Rowe or Sallie Schulz.

Calvary Deacons Active at Brookfield's July 4th Parade

Once again, the Calvary Deacons will be offering bottled water along the Brookfield 4th of July parade route. Volunteer deacons will staff four distribution stations within the parade route. Please think about buying a case of water when you are out shopping and bring it to the office. Donated bottled water will be accepted after May 22, labeled with Calvary's worship schedule, and stored in room 107. Thank you in advance for your donations and for helping keep the community hydrated during the parade.

A recount of Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.'s life in celebration of Armed Services Day was held on Saturday, May 21 from a first-person perspective of David Wiedenkiller, a living historian.

Calvary's June Mission of the Month

Calvary's Mission of the Month is Operation Christmas Child (OCC) - a powerful evangelism and discipleship program organized by Samaritan's Purse.

Last year Calvary packed 37 shoeboxes and shared the love of Christ with many needy children around the world. This year we hope to increase the number of shoeboxes we send and also raise funds to support the 12-lesson Bible study course The Greatest Journey. The Bible study course costs $6 per child and is facilitated by local churches where shoeboxes are delivered. MOM funds collected in June will be used to fund The Greatest Journey.

More information on supplies needed for shoeboxes and the packing party dates coming soon. Thank you for supporting OCC!

Wanted: Outgoing, sociable, fun conversationalists

If this sounds like you, then you may be interested in this. A major goal of Calvary is to grow membership. One of the most productive ways to achieve this goal is to make visitors feel right at home when they come to our church. To make this happen, the Evangelism Committee developed a program called Visitors Into Members (VIM). The key to its success is having a welcoming team who are gregarious, enthusiastic and love to engage people in conversation. And that's why we are contacting you. Do you have a gift in this area?

To find out more, join us Sunday, June 12 at 10:25 a.m. in the church sanctuary or Wednesday, June 15 at 7 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. You can contact Pastor Dawn, Jim Marsho or Tom Thiede with questions.
