Be Ready! Yet, while we wait...

September has been a wonderful month! The outside of the sanctuary had a landscaping update, our Sunday School and Youth Group programs started up again, Small Groups are newly underway, and we had a guest Pastor preach! It is an exciting time to be the church as we look at our schedules and plan for the future.

Yet, as we prepare for all that God has in store for us, we cannot lose sight of all that God has for us today!

As many of you know, I am not well acquainted with sports, but I have it on good authority that the two teams who play in the super bowl don't take the season off, simply waiting for that one game. All teams work hard throughout the season, not just as they compete, but as they train. They practice the fundamentals, they work hard to come together as a team, they are diligent each day. They are football players even when they're not on the field.

It is the same for us. As we wait and plan and pray for the Pastor that God has selected to lead us in the future, it does not change who we are today. We are the people of God. We are called and sent to worship God and serve others, this day and always!

For the time being, I am blessed to serve among you. I am privileged to spend each day with you as we continue to practice our faith together. We are the people of God. Let us continue to worship and serve and pray for this day and every day to come.

Amen!
Pastor Dawn

OUR MISSION & VISION:

The vision of Calvary Lutheran Church is:
"Sharing the life-changing message of Jesus Christ"

Mission Statement: Calvary Lutheran Church is a family of Christians, directed by the Holy Spirit, growing as disciples of Jesus through worship, Biblical study and prayer that are shared with the community and world.

VISIONARY LEADERSHIP FROM BISHOP JOHN BRADOSKY ARTICLE TAKEN FROM NALC NEWS — SEPTEMBER 2016 ISSUE

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Following my workshop on visionary leadership during the Mission Festival, a number of people requested copies of my presentation. Unfortunately, my notes were not in a format that could be easily shared, so I have attempted to transform my notes into a brief presentation to share with you. The Scripture text for the workshop was the first chapter of Nehemiah. (Please take a moment to read that text.)

The nature of revelation is to expose what was hidden, to shed "light" on something that was concealed, to make known or provide insight. When something is revealed we see it! Jesus uses the contrast between light and darkness in a variety of ways. He is the light of the world. The Word of God in its entirety bears witness to that light. Holy Scripture exposes us to that light.

This light is critical for visionary leadership in ministry and is a light that brings true insight. In fact, I believe Jesus wants us to "see or envision" the nature of the Kingdom of Heaven He came to proclaim. It is not something accomplished with our physical eyes but through the "eyes of faith."

Martin Luther suggests that when we read the Scripture and Jesus is coming to someone or they are coming to Him that we should put ourselves in the picture and see Jesus coming to us or see ourselves moving toward Jesus. Whatever benefit He offers to them, we should see Him offering that same benefit to us: forgiveness, healing, new life, guidance, direction, etc. This living Word is more than a history. It is the power of His presence available to us now. If we avoid reading the Scriptures in this way we will be so caught up in theological concepts, words and ideas that we fail to see anything.

In the first chapter of Nehemiah, one of Nehemiah's brothers comes to him with a report from Jerusalem. Nehemiah heard the words of his brother's report and it painted a picture. "Those who survived the exile are back in the province and are in great trouble and disgrace. The walls of Jerusalem are broken down and the gates have been burned with fire."

Can you imagine the image these words painted for Nehemiah? He saw something contrary to God's will and trusted a promise from God's Word. He believed God was calling him to enter into this vision trusting God's promise for the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the return of God's people, Israel. Through His word God planted in the heart of Nehemiah another vision of what Jerusalem would become again.

That vision became compelling for Nehemiah, and he began to think strategically about what he needed to do in order to be used for God's purposes. He not only imagined those next steps, but he also took action to accomplish them. He used his position and his relationship with the King to make the trip and gain access to the city of Jerusalem. Once he arrived he evaluated the current reality and condition of the city and compared it with the clear vision for God's intended future for Jerusalem. That "gap" between the current reality and God's intended future enabled Nehemiah to create a plan for taking action.

Every vision will produce a strategy, goals and eventually hard work. If you miss this you are only a dreamer. I encourage you to read not only the first chapter of Nehemiah but the remaining chapters as well. It is important to see how the vision for rebuilding and reform developed and unfolded. The physical building was only a small part in the spiritual renewal, repentance and refocusing on God's Word and restored relationships that transformed the lives of God's people.

The Calvary Crossroads is published monthly. All news articles should be submitted to the church office by the deadline listed on the church calendar.

Electronic submissions are preferred (email: communications@calvarylc.com).

If you received this issue via email only and would like to receive a printed copy in the mail, please contact the Calvary church office. (262.786.4010)

Printed copies are available at the church also.

From both the story of Nehemiah and my own experience in ministry I offer the following seven essentials for visionary leadership in the Church:

1. Vision flows from God's Word into our current reality.
2. Vision requires prayerful reflection and the assurance of God's involvement and will.
3. Vision involves us, captivates us, motivates us, and compels us to act.
4. Vision must be shared with others. (If it is "God breathed" it will certainly be larger than any one individual.)
5. Vision requires hard work and roadblocks must be anticipated.
6. Vision is not to the exclusion of other opportunities along the way. Remember, your vision is just a part of God's vision but not the whole — responsiveness to God's Word and God's will may lead you to additional visions (see Nehemiah 5).
7. Vision is not something exclusive to pastors. The Holy Spirit is at work in the hearts and lives of all the faithful. A visionary leader can take the visions of others that are "God breathed" and sense God's calling to act. Trust the Lord. Trust faithful people. The more responsive you are to what others see for the future the more response they will be to your leadership.

Talking with others about that vision for the future is essential. When that vision is broadly shared amazing results will follow. (In another article I will share with you how that unfolded in one of the congregations I served.)

Without visionary leadership congregations often drift aimlessly. Absent a compelling direction many wander in the wilderness — lifeless — and perish. This is precisely what the Scriptures teach: "Without vision people perish!" (Proverbs 29:18).

In order to answer the question of what inhibits the development of visionary leadership and a compelling vision and direction for the future, the nature of physiological vision problems is helpful, even in the spiritual realm. Consider the analogy of these vision problems:

Near Sighted: Can see things near but not far away. Spiritually we become so caught up in the immediacy of the present — the things right around us — that we can't see past them. The only direction is maintaining the status quo.

Far Sighted: Can see things far away but not close by. Spiritually we become so caught up in imagining the future that we fail to see the current reality that is so near. The vision doesn't provide direction, as leaders fail to discern a first step or any strategy that makes sense given the current reality.

Cataract: Cataracts produce cloudy vision. There is not enough light getting in. If the light comes from the Word of God, the spiritual issue for lack of a clear vision may stem from a lack of connection to the Word in both the individual and corporate life of the congregation.

Retinal Detachment or Macular Degeneration: These vision problems are not the result of the lack of light being received by the eye but the failure of the receptors in the eye to adequately communicate the image to the portion of the brain that enables us to make sense out of what we see. This could be compared to the spiritual problem of knowing what the Word says but failing to follow the guidance of the Holy Spirit to an obedient response. Our will is never an adequate substitute for God's will and mission.

Lazy Eye: The muscles don't work so that both eyes can focus. Tragically, this has become an all too common problem in the Church, the unwillingness to turn vision into action. We want everything God intends to be quick and easy. We want a less-demanding vision that won't require sacrifice, altered priorities or any change in lifestyle. The witness of Scripture does not support these assumptions. When the vision of the Kingdom that Jesus came to proclaim is planted in the hearts of His followers, lives are transformed, but it is never quick and easy. The values of current culture never match the culture of His Kingdom.

The only other kind of leadership beyond faithful visionary leadership is bad leadership. If you want to grow in capacity as a visionary leader, begin today by giving the Holy Spirit a chance to "paint" a clear image of every portion of Scripture you read. Create time in your schedule to pray and meditate on the Word so that a vision for you and those you serve emerges with clarity. Reserve time in every relationship for asking such questions and receiving responses from others. Mission and ministry require visionary leadership. Without it, people perish and congregations die.

"At that time Jesus, full of joy through the Holy Spirit, said, 'I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and learned and revealed them to little children. Yes, Father for this is what you were pleased to do. All things have been committed to me by my Father. No one knows who the Son is except the Father, and no one knows who the Father is except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.' Then he turned to his disciples and said privately, 'Blessed are the eyes that see what you see. For I tell you that many prophets and kings wanted to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it'" (Luke 10: 21-24).

May the Lord strengthen His vision in us for mission and ministry, making disciples of all nations!

With you following Him,

Bishop John Bradosky

Calvary member celebrates 100th birthday:

Bill Anderson turned 100 on September 27, and he's still going strong. His youthful spirit and sense of humor for the past century were celebrated at a surprise reception at Calvary on Saturday, September 17.

The room was decked out with pictures and mementos highlighting Bill's 100 years. Calvary Deacons hosted a wonderful meal and Bill blew out a very tall candles next to a special birthday cake, while one hundred tea candles were blown out by those attending. Even though he may have hit the century mark, Bill is in very good health as he still drives and faithfully chauffeurs Calvary members (the ladies) to church. Congratulations Bill! God bless you!

SALT on the Road – October 14 (Senior Adults Living Triumphantlly) (ages 60 and over)

Grohmann Museum at MSOE

Since Biblical times, man has been at work. Join us in a visit to the Grohmann Museum on Friday, October 14 for a tour of more than 400 paintings and bronzes that depict the kind of work we have done across the ages. This beautiful museum is a true hidden gem in downtown Milwaukee.

Our day will begin with a light brunch in fellowship hall at 9:30. (Eat hearty as we won't have a lunch break.) We'll carpool to the museum at 11 am and return at about 3:30. We'll have a docent-led tour of the highlights of the museum and an hour or so to browse on our own and visit their gift shop. The museum has an elevator and benches throughout, so we can get around easily and take breaks during the visit.

Admission is $3 for those age 65 and older and $5 for those under 65. We'll collect the admission fees before we leave Calvary.

Please check out the photos on the narthex glass door and sign up by Oct. 10. If you aren't able to go to the museum but would like to come for brunch, just check off the "Brunch Only" column on the sign up sheet. And if you'd like to stay and enjoy fellowship and possibly a card game or other game, we'll be gathering in the media room (Room 110) after the museum goes have left. If you are able to help with driving, please indicate that as well. There is a free parking lot adjacent to the building.

This is our inaugural "SALT on the road" trip and we know it will be a great time of learning and fellowship!

Monday Morning Movie Oct. 17

All Calvary members and friends are invited to Room 110 (the media room) at 9 am on Monday, Oct. 17 to watch "Words and Pictures".

Here is a synopsis of this delightful movie:

An English teacher and fallen literary star challenges an art teacher to a war of words versus images to determine which form carries the greatest meaning in this romantic comedy drama. Jack Marcus (Clive Owen) is a prep-school English teacher who sees his students' obsession with social media as a literary and intellectual abyss. His alcoholism is slowly taking over his life as his estranged son drifts ever further away, and the school's once-proud literary magazine lapses into irrelevance. Meanwhile, art teacher and abstract painter Dina Delsanto (Juliette Binoche) wrestles with debilitating arthritis that has forced her to lay down her paintbrush indefinitely. Jack respects Dina and even flirts with her on occasion, but he has a cruel habit of riling her that leads to swelling tensions between the two teachers. As Jack's performance review draws near, he knows that his continued failure to engage his students could cost him his job. Out of Jack's desperation comes a flash of innovation, and he boldly issues a challenge to his rival in the visual arts: Convinced that a mere picture could never truly convey the emotion and nuance of the English language, Jack challenges Dina to create a painting that's as powerful as his own written words. Meanwhile, as the student body grows increasingly engaged in this vibrant creative conflict, love starts to blossom in the heat of battle.

And, yes, there is a Packer game that day at noon which will prime your vocal cords for the Sing-Along after the game!

Women's Ministry Book Group – October 2016

All Calvary women and their friends will get together at 1:00 pm on Monday, October 10, to discuss this month's selection, The Lemon Tree: An Arab, a Jew, and the Heart of the Middle East by Sandy Tolan.

In 1967, Bashir Al-Khayri, a Palestinian twenty-five-year-old, journeyed to Israel, with the goal of seeing the beloved old stone house, with the lemon tree behind it, that he and his family had fled nineteen years earlier. To his surprise, when he found the house he was greeted by Dalia Ashkenazi Landau, a nineteen-year-old Israeli college student, whose family fled Europe for Israel following the Holocaust. On the stoop of their shared home, Dalia and Bashir began a rare friendship, forged in the aftermath of war and tested over the next thirty-five years in ways that neither could imagine on that summer day in 1967. Based on extensive research, and springing from his enormously resonant documentary that aired on NPR's Fresh Air in 1998, Sandy Tolan brings the Israeli-Palestinian conflict down to its most human level, suggesting that even amid the bleakest political realities there exist stories of hope and reconciliation.

A limited number of copies of the book are available in the church office.

We hope you can join us for what promises to be an interesting discussion.

Looking ahead to November . . .

On Monday November 14, we'll discuss When Books Went to War: The Stories That Helped Us Win World War II by Molly Guptill Manning.

Dress for Success in the Armor of God Continues!

This study will teach us how to put on God's very armor to fight the devil on every front. If you miss a session, DVD's are available to check out and view at home. You can join one of the other week's meeting if you can't attend your standard meeting. We meet in Room 110 (media room).

October Food Sunday

Thank you to everyone who contributed last month. The next Food Sunday is Pasta Sunday, with collection on October 15 & 16, 2016. Recommended items include all types of macaroni, pasta and pasta sauces, canned, bottled, or bagged/package. Other items of need are rice, canned meats, fruits or vegetables, soups, and cereals. Items collected are taken to the Waukesha Food Pantry. If you prefer to make a monetary contribution, please mark your envelope or check with the notation "Food Pantry".

October Mission of the Month:

October's Mission of the Month is Lutheran World Relief. Financial contributions may be made using your weekly offering envelopes or a white pew envelope. Please note "Mission of the Month" on your check and/or envelope. Gifts of time, talent and supplies can be provided throughout the year as noted below.

Lutheran World Relief extends the hand of Christian love to people overcoming poverty and injustice in 50 countries

We at Calvary have used our hearts and hands for decades to extend love and compassion to those living in the harshest conditions. This year our Christian love produced

40 school kits

50 quilts

17 health kits

11 fleece blankets

We have a dedicated room at Calvary for our quilters. Please prayerfully consider joining them or ask what support they may need. See Ruby Hauch or Sue Vollmar.

Fleece blankets are made during Mission Servant Projects in June. Throughout the year RoJean Holler watches for fleece sales and Joanne coupons. You can help! A good sale is the acquisition of both quilt pieces (top and bottom) for $14 or less. The blankets must be 60 by 80 inches. Please go to LWR.org to see the very specific requirements - blankets may not have words or symbols.

Jane Krause and Judy DeBruine lead backpack production during June Mission Projects and welcome sewers, people to cut fabric or to otherwise lend a hand. One challenge is the type of cord needed for the drawstrings which is expensive and hard to find. One backpack needs 4 yards of strong 1/4" in diameter cord or rope. Jane and Judy can coach people where to look and what to look for in obtaining the cord.

Finally, health kit collections begin during June's Mission Projects and anyone can put one together. Marilyn Hermann is an expert shopper for obtaining the quality clippers required and the best deal on quality towels. Please ask her for tips. Her Circle puts together their health kits in August or September.

On September 24th all the items were packed up and delivered to the local sending church to be prepared for shipping to Lutheran World Relief. Thank you to Ernie Kretschmann, RoJean Holler and Jon Vollmar for packing and delivering the kits, quilts, and blankets produced this year.

Children & Youth

Bible Sunday. On Sunday, September 25, the third grade students and children age 3, were presented with Bibles in worship in the hope that, as new readers, they will embark on a life-long habit of reading and reflecting on the Bible. The third grade students received the NIV Adventure Bible and the younger children received My First Hands-On Bible. Both Bibles are child-friendly with guiding questions and Bible background.

We hold them in prayer as they become independent readers of God's Word.

Youth Groups. Youth Groups start in October with the High School and Middle School meeting on Sunday, October 2 and the 3rd - 5th grades meeting Sunday, October 9. Groups will meet at Calvary Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall at 11:30 a.m. Join your fellow students for lunch, fellowship, fun, and prayer!
